

Our Song

by Abigail Gilmore

Our music is the language of our soul

It tells a thousand stories yet untold

May these songs and these stories never dull

Our songs are beauty whether new or old

We sing about joy, love and happiness.

We sing about success, our failure to

We sing about pain and downheartedness

We sing about our life and all we do

There's those who sang of laughter, love, and life

Like Stevie Wonder, Michael Jackson, Queen

Those who sang of heartbrokenness and strife

Like Rufus Wainwright, Marvin Gaye, Al Green

Although so many greats have come and gone

Their voices and their song do linger on
